But Calro appears to be rather reluction to accept the will of the Sudanese and it is now backing Mohammed Nur-al-Din, apparently the only important sudanese politician who still favours union with Egypt. The real problem of the junts is how to reconcile Egypt's professed "anti-imperialism" with its real policy. This "anti-imperialism" must be handy for export to faraway countries. But Egypt's may be handy for export to faraway countries. But Egypt's may be handy for export to faraway countries. A State Department announcement said:

"The Despriment has learned with deep regret of the great loss of life in the plane which crashed in flames on Bulgarian soil. We are indignant at the shooting down of this passenger aircraft, even if it may have been a few miles off its course. It is repetitions of incidents of this kind which we had earnestly hoped would not recur."

The protest was sent through the U.S. Embassy in Berne as America has no diplomatic ties with Bulgaria.

Washington officials said that Bulgaria's responsibility for the incident would not be cased even is it is found that "trigger-happy" gunners shot without top-level orders.

Communist's Death

Bilenos aires, saturday and Resulter. — Police officers at Rosario have told Federal investigators that they threw the body of a missing Communist doctor into the Farana River. The Minister of Public Works has been called in to begin dredging operations in an effort to recover the body.

The doctor, Juan Ingalinella has been missing since June 16 — date of the unsuccessful anti-Peron revolt — when he was detained for questioning by the Rosanic police. Later, an official distribution and that the doctor died "of a heart attack during severe questioning."

The case is fast beepming a course celebra in the present.

that the doctor died "of a heart attack during severe questioning."

The case is fast becoming a cosse celebre in the present dramatic Argentine political scene and is causing the Feron Government the most acute embarrasament.

A congressional scenamittee has left for Recario, Argentina's scond city, to investigate the matter.

Lack of Cuoyams

Some of Resario's principal police officers were dismissed and arrested before the Government gave its explanation of the doctor's death.

A special session of the Chamber of 'Deputies arranged for yesterday, with the "Caso Ingalinella" at the top of the agenda, failed to materialise through lack of a quorum when Peronista deputies did not appear.

Meanwhile, the Argentine Me-

Peronista deputies did not appear.

Meanwhile the Argentine Medical Federation has ordered a nation wide 24-hour strike next Tuesday as a day of mourning and protest for the death of Dr. Ingalinella The strike order calls on all doctors to stop work at all Government, provincial and private hospitals, nursing homes, clinica, sanatoria and even their own consulting rooms with the exception of urgent cases.

Symptomatic of the continued tense atmosphere is the fact that the sentences imposed by a court martial on the officers implicated in the June 18 revolt have still not been officially published.

To the Sports Baises.
The Jerusalem Feet
Sir.—According to Fruss feports, Mr. Arthur (Jackie) Glibbons, of England, has volunteered to train our national factball team. Commenting on this, some local journalists him that Mr.
Gibbons would not be suitable to train our eleven. because in Eng-local fournalists hint that Mr. Gibbons would not be stitable to train our cleven, because in England he played football as an anateur.

The fact is that Mr. Gibbons, though indeed an amateur, was during the war and the years after considered one of the cleverest and most brilliant inside forwards playing in Britain—and that in the hey day of players like Carter, Mannion, Doherty and MacCaulay, he was particularly outstanding for Tottenham Hotspur. Later he became player-trainer for Breetford He was at all times recognized as a "gentleman of the succer field" in England.

With the forthcoming matches against USSR in Moscow and Ramat Gan, and the general desire to improve our football, in view, I feel it could but be a wise step to engage Mr. Gibbons as trainer of the national eleven. There are few men more suttable for the job.

Yet the main concern to day is the beginning of negotiations for the formation of coalitions. These would be difficult enough in any conscience. They are made unnecessarily complicated by the cross-bargaining between negotiations for a new government and for the administration of the large municipalities. There is no doubt returned to one led by Mapai.

Yet the main concern today is the beginning of negotiations for the formation of coalitions. These would be difficult enough in any conscience. They are made unnecessarily complicated by the cross-bargaining between negotiations for a new government and for the administration of the large municipalities. There is no doubt that some of the possible partners for a Government coalition are making certain pre-conditions in connection with the constitution of Municipal Councils and the appointment of their Mayors. Civic government should not be allowed to suffer from this over-politization, Questions of decent local government and services such as street lighting and cleaning do not depend on the wider political policies. Perhaps a way out would be for the separation of local and national elections. The former should be held at a different time from the latter and the term should be different. Let the local councils sit for three or five years so that when a new Knesset is elected the issues of cabinet-making which follow will not be allowed to interfere with the smooth running of local government.
